INSTRUCTORS

Robin Kessinger – Flatpicking

St Albans, WV

“Robin’s place in the ranks of the world’s great guitar players is well established, as a winner of the coveted National Flatpicking Championship at Winfield, Kansas, as well as many other championships in dozens of festivals around the country.” Jim Martin, Producer

Wayne Henderson – Fingerpicking

Rugby, VA

“Wayne is not just any guitar builder, he built one for Eric Clapton. He’s not just any guitar player, he’s played at Carnegie Hall, Lincoln Center, the White House as well as potluck dinners at the Rugby Rescue Squad” - Allen St. John, Author

Jim Ritchey – Chords and Licks

Greensboro, NC

Jim Ritchey is an experienced guitar teacher, a recording engineer, a published songwriter and was a touring musician for 20 years. His songs have been recorded and performed by numerous artists, including Kenny Rogers, BeJae Fleming, Mickey Jones, Kelley Hunt, Jim Messina, and B.W. Stevenson. Jim honed his writing and performing skills in the clubs of Austin and Dallas. A long time lover of the blues, Ritchey has worked with such legends as Lightnin’ Hopkins, Mance Lipscomb, and Big Mama Thornton.
